

All-Union Student Labor Unit, 1970s-80s.

Aluminum, paint. Maker marked. Several pins available with different years of issue - we will select from our inventory at random. Price is per single piece.

All are in excellent condition. The college student construction units were organized during the summer for assistance in crucial areas of economic development. In the 70s-80s they were usually deployed in the Far East and North of the Soviet Union. The "All-Union" labor assignments were quite popular and even competitive, as they often offered unusually high earnings to students otherwise chronically starved for cash.
