

"M V Lomonosov Leningrad Porcelain Factory, 1944 - 2004" , Nataliya Petrova, C 2007, St Petersburg.

Russian text, hard cover, 896 pp, massive 11 ¼ "x8 ½ "x 2" format. format. Monumental work, encompassing 60 years of history of the venerable LFZ, the most famous of all Soviet porcelain makers. The book contains high quality color photos of hundreds upon hundreds of artifacts, everything from whimsical animal figurines to finest dinnerware sets - perhaps the most comprehensive catalog of LFZ works in existence. It also contains a complete historical review and description of technological methods used ever to be found in published literature.

There is a very helpful index of individual artists in the beginning of the book and their detailed biographies (accompanied by the photos) in the addendum. All-in-all, staggering amount of information, by far the best book available on the subject.

The book is long out of print. We have only single copy in stock, in excellent condition. There are a couple of tiny scuffs to the bottom edge of the back cover and mild corner bumps. The book is in otherwise mint condition, with tight binding and immaculately clean pages and text block.
