

Jubilee Medal (Badge) in Commemoration of the 25th Anniversary of the Soviet War Veterans Committee, 1981 issue.

In brass with lacquer finish. Medallion measures 29.3 mm wide. The obverse features the monument to WW2 Soviet soldier in the Berlin's Treptower Park and inscription "Soviet War Veterans Committee, XXV Anniversary". The eyelet shows stamped mint mark "LMD" (Leningrad mint). Raised logo of the Leningrad Mint on the reverse of the suspension device.

In very fine to excellent condition. The details and finishes are perfect essentially perfect, with only tiny contact marks. There is a tiny blemish around the 10 o'clock position.

The Soviet War Veterans Committee (SKVV) was formed in 1956 on Marshal Zhukov's initiative. Throughout its existence, the organization issued several awards mostly presented to highly decorated veterans and those who were still playing significant role in society after the war. The SKVV 25th Anniversary Medal was awarded especially sparingly and apparently only to VIPs, not rank and file.
