

Guard's Badge, Pobeda Factory manufacture, circa 1960s - early 70s.

Relatively early version in anodized aluminum and enamel paint (as opposed to "hot-baked" enamels); 47.1 x 35.4 mm. The star and banner are of characteristically light, almost scarlet tint. Features reverse with a counter-relief in the lower portion and flat on the top. The screw post attachment is of the style used by the Pobeda Factory in the 60s - early 70s.

There are only a few tiny contact marks and a couple of miniscule dings, no significant scuffs to the paint or other significant flaws. The screw post is full length, approx. 9.5 mm measured from its base. Comes with original screw plate with Pobeda Factory logo.
