

Elegant Early Soviet Era Cut Crystal Bowl circa 1920s-50s.

Stands approx. 5 ¾" tall, the bowl is 8 ¾" wide, the base is about 4" wide. Judging by the shape of the bowl, it was designed for holding small to medium sized fruits. The manufacturer is unknown as the bowl is not marked except for the number 29 stamped near the center.

In excellent condition. Except for a very small hairline scratch on the reverse side of the bowl and a minuscule shallow chip at the rim of the base, there is no visible post-production damage of any kind.

This fruit bowl will make a nice addition to a retro environment in a home, and will be a lasting joy for a connoisseur of things antique.

Please note that the teaspoon in our photo is for size reference only.
