

Clear Glass Decanter, hand-cut, with original stopper, circa 1950s-60s.

Stands 12" tall to the tip of the stopper, its elegance accented by a long narrow 8-facet neck, on top of which sits a long 8-facet stopper with a tapered tip. Holds up to 500 ml of your favorite beverage but designed primarily for vodka.

In very good to excellent condition. Our close inspection revealed only one hairline-thin 1"-long scratch to the belly. As is often the case with glass stoppers, its lower end shows a few small chips. None of the wear affects structural integrity or functionality of the decanter.

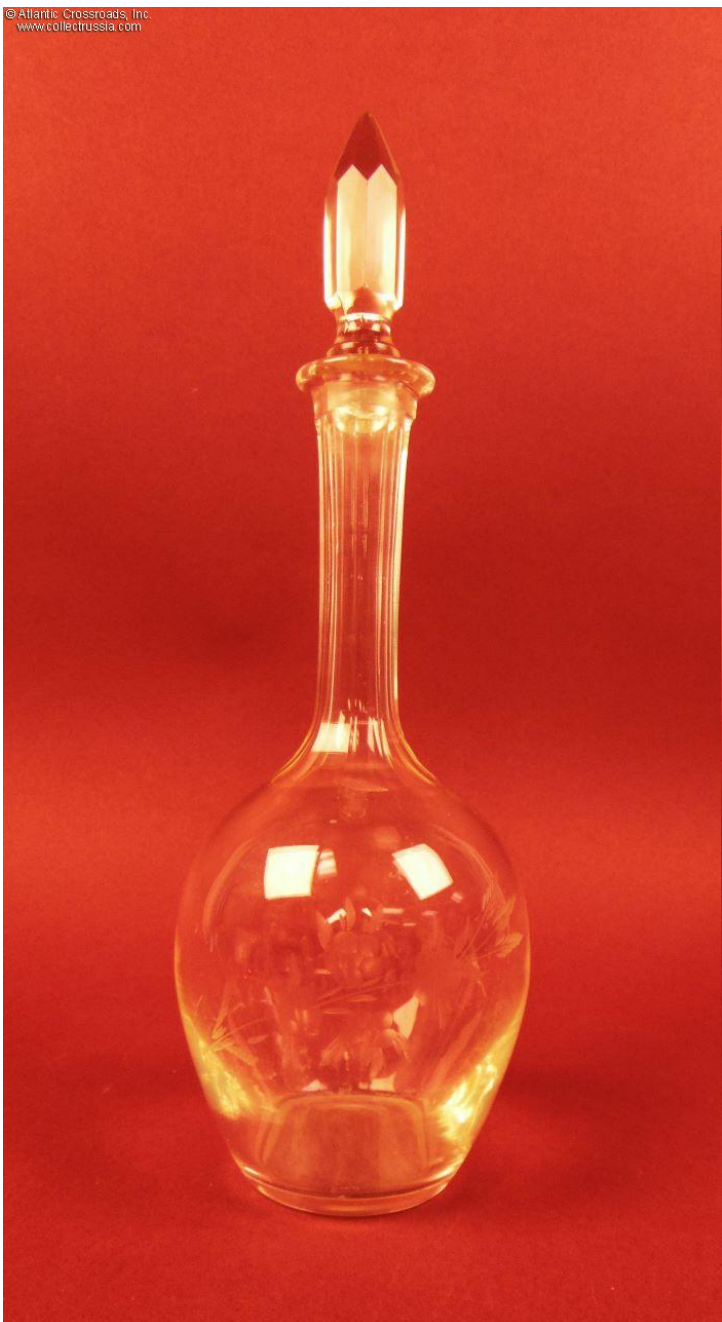

Please note that the stopper does not sit very snugly in the neck "automagically", and needs to be twisted a little to achieve a snug fit.

Please note that the teaspoon in our photo is for size reference.
