

Echoes of War: Researching Soviet Military Decorations, Paul J. Schmitt, C. 2006, Lorton, VA.

English text Hardcover with dust jacket, 192 pp., 11 1/4" by 8 1/2" format.

This is the long-awaited volume on Soviet medals research by one of the authors of The Comprehensive Guide to Soviet Orders and Medals. This book is intended to both complement the original reference and serve as an indispensable aid to a growing audience of hobby- researchers.

The volume features the widest published collection of Soviet awards' serial numbers and awarding information. This tabulated information is further expounded upon by actual, contemporary award citations describing a selection of the feats for which the awards were granted. An added bonus is provided by period photographs and detailed maps to place the items in their historical, as well as geographical context.

Not only will researchers delight in this new addition to the library of existing references, but the more general reader interested in militaria or the Eastern Front will also find much of interest.

Brand new copy in mint condition. With a limited printing of just 1500 copies, this book is sure to sell out quickly and become a collectible classic in itself.
