

Lenin's Lithographic Portrait on cardboard, circa 1950s-60s.

Approximately 14 1/4" x 21". Edges unevenly trimmed. The official label on the back is mostly cut away - only the entry categories on the left are still visible (size, artist's copy, date of publication, etc.).

Good condition. Various areas where the image's surface has been rubbed or scratched. Two or three microscopic rust spots. Shallow crease on the left hand side. A good framer could probably fill in the areas where the image was rubbed. A slight trim of the edges would even out the irregular sides prior to framing - otherwise, a black matt would be a good choice, too.
