

Chicken, cast iron figurine by the Kusa Iron Works, circa 1970s.

Stands 4" tall, the base measures nearly 6" wide. A hatchling standing next to its broken shell is exuding almost comical confidence. Maker marked "Kusa" at the bottom. A fine quality figurine by a less common Soviet cast iron maker.

The figurine has been repainted, otherwise in excellent condition.

Please note, penny in our photo is for size reference.
