

Gold Star Medal of Hero of the Soviet Union, REPRODUCTION.

In gilded brass. Unlike most other replicas found on the market these days, this one is made of quality materials, not of light weight metal or lead. The star is approx. 29 mm wide; its dimensions, facets and the texture of the surface on the obverse are correct and make a very convincing impression.

The reverse has stamped Russian word муляж ("mulyazh" i.e. replica) and does not have a serial number. The construction of the suspension is similar to the original overall although there was no attempt made to match it precisely. The screw plate is without mint logo.

Caveat Emptor: although marked "mulyazh", this is not one of the officially authorized copies produced by the Soviet mint for movie studios and theatrical performances. Its quality however is very close to the official replicas from the Soviet era.
