

V I Lenin and I V Stalin on a Direct Line Communicating with the Chiefs of Staff, an offset color lithograph, reproduction from a painting by A.

V. Meravov.

Lithograph size 10 ¼" x 8". Total size with the frame 13 ¾" x 10 ¾". Printed on thin but fine quality matte paper and affixed by a thin line of glue along the top edge to a thin cardboard backing inside a printed frame.

The lithograph is in excellent condition. No damage if we don't count microscopic scuffs at the bottom corners. The backing cardboard is in very good condition showing just a little wear at the corners and along the edges. There is a narrow line of discoloration along the bottom edge of the backing, not at all detracting from the whole.

This picture may or may not reflect a factual event but is indeed a rare piece of art where Lenin and Stalin are depicted not just bodily together but working together. Their antagonism towards one another is a historic fact.

Please note that the pen in our photo is for size reference.
