

Set of 3 vintage cut lead crystal open salt cellars, circa 1940s-60s.

Each salt cellar measures 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ " across, the height around $\frac{3}{4}$ ". In thick cut lead crystal glass. All cut in the same pattern, the difference being only the cut on the bottom which is similar but not identical.

In very good vintage condition. All three items show minuscule traces of use wear: tiny chips and scratches. However, they almost disappear visually against the play of the light in the planes and angles of the cut surfaces, and are not really detractive.

Please note that the teaspoon in our photo is for size reference.
