

Podstakannik in Aluminum with Anodized Gold Finish, circa 1970s-80s.

Stands 9 cm (3 ¾") tall to the tip of the handle, about 8 cm wide at the foot. Wildlife-themed artwork features a centerpiece vignette with a furry predator carrying its kill to feed its babies. The sides of the skirt feature a sparse tasteful design centered around a branch of a conifer with a hanging cone. Uncommonly, the podstakannik is maker marked on the handle rather than on the underside of the bottom rim. Another uncommon feature is that the handle is not riveted or soldered but stapled to the skirt.

In excellent condition. The metal is very clean inside and out, the anodized layer has retained most of its original golden luster. There is no damage of any kind, just very mild occasional scuffing.

Please note: If you try to come up with a replacement glass liner, it should be made of tempered glass even though we urge you not to use this to drink from! We offer this strictly as a historic artifact (and dramatic stage prop for your dining room or study). We provide no warranty of its suitability for drinking hot beverages like tea or coffee. All we know is that it should look great sitting on a tray next to your antique family samovar.

Enjoy!
