

Medal for the Capture of Berlin, Variation 1, circa 1945-47 issue.

In brass; 32.2 mm wide; weighs 17.2 g not including the suspension and connecting link. In excellent condition. Both sides show very mild wear and tiny contact marks that are barely noticeable to the naked eye, no scratches, edge knocks, or other significant flaws of any kind. The raised details are well-preserved and crisp. The toning to the brass is uniform and attractive, free of blemishes or significant oxidation spots.

The medal comes on an original WW2 suspension device, a two-layer model in brass and steel with self-locking pin. The old, possibly original ribbon is exceptionally well-preserved and immaculately clean. Overall, this is a beautiful example of the Variation 1 Berlin Medal.
