

WW2 "trench art" cigarette lighter circa 1940s.

In brass, measures 2 3/4" long, 3/4" in diameter. Tight-fitting lid fits over the body almost seamlessly. The bottom part, ribbed along the rim for better grip pulls out revealing the fuel tank filled with cotton wool. The wick is in place but the flint and the spark wheel are missing.

In very good condition. The brass is clear of verdigris and displays mild attractive patina. There are no scratches, dings or any other significant wear.

Please note that the penny in our photo is for size reference.
