

Military ID of Red Army Reserve Serviceman Private Mikhail Tsulaya (Михаил Петрович Цулая), 1927.

Drastically different from later standardized format: soft cover booklet measuring approx. 4" x 7". All the printed text is in Georgian followed by its Russian translation. Handwritten entries are also duplicated in both languages.

In very good to excellent condition. The cover is mostly clean, showing slight discoloration to the front due to light exposure, and a couple of small ink stains to the back. The top 35% or the spine shows a separation, however, the booklet is firmly held together by the binding staple which is tight and rust-free. The internal pages show minuscule corner bumps but are completely clean. All the printed and handwritten text, seals and stamps are clear and perfectly legible.

Please note that the pen in our photo is for size reference.
