

All-Russian Society for Help to Invalids of War, Member ID issued to Elizaveta Porokhovnikova, 1933.

In booklet format measuring 2 1/2" x 3 1/2", in cloth-bound soft covers. Reading the first page, we learn that the ID was issued by GIPROLESPROM, an acronym mouthful in the best Soviet traditions, standing for State Institute of Engineering Design for the Forestry Industry. The full name of the Society is printed at the top of the page: "All-Russian Society for help to invalids of war, sick, wounded and discharged Red Army soldiers and the families of the persons killed in action."

In excellent condition, showing minimal storage wear to the cover and mild warping to the internal pages where dues stamps were posted, featuring a Red Army soldier wearing a Budyonovka soft cloth helmet.

Please note that the penny in our photo is for size reference.
