OSOAVIAKHIM Member ID # 0267473, Turkmen SSR, issued on 7 April 1942 to Alexandra Ionova.

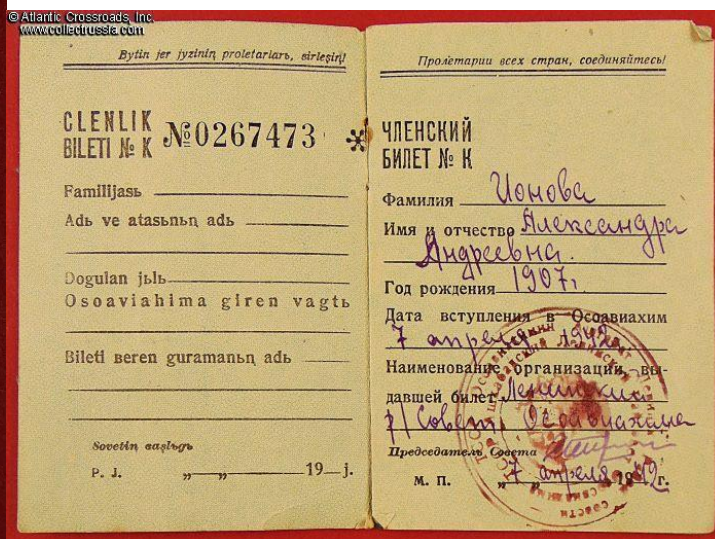

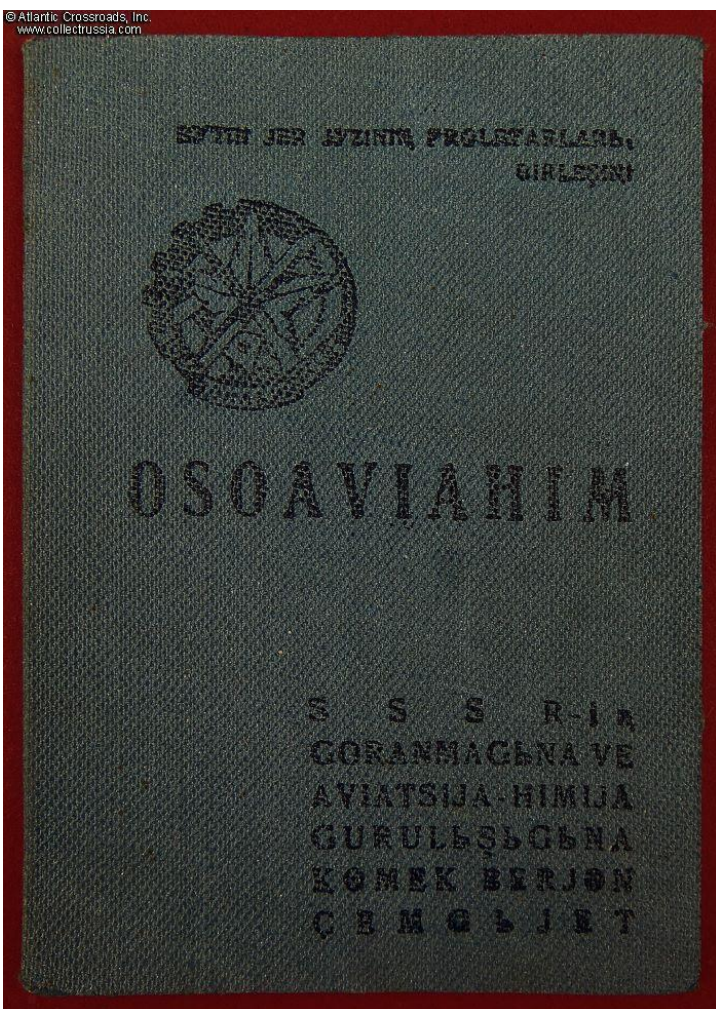

Booklet in soft oilcloth-bound covers, 2 1/2" x 3 3/4". The front cover features the image of the OSOAVIAKHIM badge under the communist slogan "Proletarians of all countries, unite" and its full name, "Society for the Assistance of Defense, Aviation, and Chemical Construction in the USSR," a large paramilitary organization established in 1927 to promote civil defense training and support the Soviet armed forces. The ID was issued in Akhhabad, the capital of Turkmen SSR (now Achgabat, Turkmenistan). Typically for non-Russian Soviet republics, the printed text inside is in both Turkmen and Russian. However, rather uncommonly, the lettering on the cover is in Turkmen only.

In very good to excellent condition. The front cover is pristine, the back has a few small ink stains. Inside, all the printed and handwritten text, ink stamp and signature are clear and legible.

Please note that the penny in our photo is for size reference.
