

Medal for the Liberation of Warsaw, Variation 2, late 1940s.

In brass; measures 37.3 mm in height incl. eyelet, 32.3 mm wide; weighs 17.3 g not including the suspension and connecting link. This sub-variation of Variation 2 features a rounded eyelet with flat edges rather than a U-shaped eyelet.

In very fine to excellent condition. The medallion shows no wear visible to the naked eye besides a couple of minuscule dings to the raised edge that are barely noticeable. The raised details are nicely preserved and crisp. There is an attractive even patina to the brass throughout, while traces of the original "gilt" mint luster are visible in recessed areas on the obverse. There are some very light blemishes, mostly on the reverse, that do not detract and actually add character.

Comes on an original suspension device, a late 1940s model in brass. The old ribbon is perfectly preserved and sound. The connecting link appears to be of the period. Overall, a very attractive example of the Variation 2 Warsaw medal.
