

Soviet Naval Ensign, in wool bunting, dated 1991.

Very large size, approx. 6 1/2' x 4 1/3'. The canvas hoist sleeve shows a round quality inspection stamp; designation ВМФ ("VMF" which stands for Navy); the 1981 ГОСТ State Manufacturing Standard code; a 1991 date of manufacture; and the name of the manufacturer, Vladimirsksaya T.G.F.

Outstanding, excellent condition. The flag is completely free of the moth damage prevalent among Soviet-era flags made of wool. The colors are strong. Beside a few tiny marks - practically unnoticeable considering the size of the flag - and some minor red ink smudges on the hoist sleeve, the flag is perfectly clean, free of significant stains or soiling.

This flag is one of the last made in the USSR before its collapse at the end of 1991. An interesting conversation piece, it will create a great backdrop for a naval or Cold War militaria collection.

Please note that the yardstick in our photo is for size reference.
